Language with Premier
Language Centre in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia
together with additional certification from Cass Training International
College, Sydney, Australia*

Why Premier..

Premier Language Centre shares a common goal with many of its kind; to boost students into future career paths, and enable personal growth. With that in mind, Premier will differentiate itself by bringing additional services in this field. With partnerships to Cass Training International College (CTIC) and thus Curtin University, JMC Academy, King's Own Institute, Raffles college of Design and Commerce, University of New England, and University of southern Queensland in Sydney, Australia; Premier already holds a strong foothold on the English language curriculum. The centre will leverage its experience to provide a streamlined education for students hoping to study in a new and dynamic environment.

The primary benefit of Premier is the gateway it provides to studying overseas. Many students find it infinitely useful, if not absolutely necessary to speak English in order to study abroad. Although for many, this is a barrier that makes international study appear as an invalid option. Premier bears the correct foundations to bridge the gap, and allow students to open their potential at an international level. As a result, students will be provided with the skills to explore broader horizons.

MISSION STATEMENT / VISION:
THE ASPIRATIONS OF PREMIER.

"To become a nationally prestigious educational institution through providing quality, sincere and reputable educational programs for our students. Our aim is to improve each individual student's skills to be their gateway to success in further education or employment."

Premier strives to become a centre for all students to expand their reach across the majority of the population and excel in their personal goals. Premier sees itself as becoming a necessary stepping stone into pursuing studies or careers both locally and overseas. The college hopes to hold a strong reputation, and be recognized for the paths that their students will undergo after enrolling at Premier.

CORE VALUES OF PREMIER.

INTEGRITY: This first value of Premier constitutes the full, complete service it is set on providing for the students.

INSPIRATIONAL: Premier is aiming to inspire the students to take greater control of their studies or work, and expand their potential as an individual.

QUALITY: This value is directed towards providing a high quality learning environment and programme for the students, in that they will not be restricted from achieving their best potential.

EMPATHY: Premier has prior experience to the processes the students are going through, and as a result works to provide guidance and aid through every step the students are going through.

We provide a number of courses suitable for every age and need, the courses of which are currently available across a range of eight appropriate student levels depending upon age and choice as follows:-

Premier's General English Language courses cater for students ranging from Elementary to Advanced which aims to:-

- Provide students with the basic language & comprehension skills of reading, writing, listening and pronunciation.
- Teach students vocabulary and grammar, and holistically improve their studies of English Language.
- Serve as a foundation to Premier's more specialized and unique courses that can aid every other manner relative to the English language.

This is a short English language learning course for the avid sportsman or person with interest in the arts, travel etc., who so often needs to communicate with his local and international peers either on the golf course, on the tennis court at the opera or on a travel experience locally or close to Malaysia and the like.

It is a fact of life that the efficient business executive invariably has a second occupation either in sport or other activities that gives him or her the opportunity to switch off from time to time which it has been found that such approach results in a clear mind and new thinking ability the next day at the office or wherever.

This reality of both contact and language communication whether with family, friends or business associates make a difference to the future and for this reason Premier' has studied the necessity of a short term sporting or other type of activity on top of an English language crash course for those seeking an educational sanctuary away from home.

In the past we have directed such involvement towards golf in particular and by example we call upon such sportsperson activities to excursions in the appropriate directions to achieve a casual, relaxing experience that will find their place with Premier's Business English program.

Subject to the interests of the executive with a particular following beyond business activities, we at Premier's are always prepared to encourage involvement in such short term daily activities as appropriate such as golf, tennis, the arts or travel amongst other interests, however we are also able to assist in the expansion of 'away from work & studies' to medium term travel excursions over term programs up to two weeks duration.

By genuine interest in such activities we are prepared to discuss excursions on either a personal or group basis that makes all the difference whilst studying "The English Language".

In this regard trips to key local and international locations from Kuala Lumpur either by airline or cruise ship are commensurate with the ideal study programs that Premier' is able to organize.

Travelling abroad has always been an exciting venture for all of the Premier Vacation English programs which are tailored to better adapt you to communicate comfortably during your travels.

With a thorough 3 hours real English course, on top of numerous excursions around Malaysia, learn the essentials to enjoy your stay wherever you go.

For the person seeking only to speak Basic English but not to an advanced stage described in the 'General English Language Course' described above, then this is a course structured accordingly. It is emphasized that this standard provides a basis to understand and response in discussion but not sufficient to debate, write and understand commercial and technical diction.

This course can be appropriate for a range of education levels to improve one's English speaking ability in most daily situations and the main advantage for the average person seeking basic improvement only to a better understanding of its present ability more quickly is this streamlined Course and additionally this can be a stepping stone to proceeding to a higher level such as Courses 1.0 to 7.0 inclusive.
